

All you need to know about the

ITE Early Admissions Exercise

2017

For those who are clear what they want to pursue, we should support them as much as possible, to facilitate their admission into our PSEIs based on interests and aptitudes, and not solely based on academic results.

2018

Ideally, admission to vocational training pathways should predominantly be aptitude-based. There are practical constraints, such as course capacity, or the industries' ability to absorb the graduates – but where possible, we want every student to enter a vocation of his liking.

Things You Should Know About the ITE EAE

1 It's for those who have aptitudes and interests in specific fields of study

- Focus on course-specific aptitudes and interests
- But, non-course-specific achievements, e.g. sports, performing arts, leadership, are also considered

2 You'll be assessed through different modes

- E.g. interviews, aptitude tests, showcasing your portfolio, depending on the course you apply for

3 All this will take place before your N- or O-Level exams

- If your application is successful, ITE will give you a conditional offer before you take the N- or O-Level exams

4 You'll still have to meet the minimum entry requirements

- Most Nitec or Higher Nitec courses have subject-specific minimum entry requirements (see slides 6 and 7)

(...or your offer will be revoked)

5 But you won't have to compete for admission to ITE strictly on the basis of how well you do academically compared to everyone else

Increased Opportunities

Greater flexibility for ITE to admit students via aptitude-based admissions

Focus on courses for which aptitude-based admissions is most meaningful, i.e. where interests and strengths in the field are particularly important

Last Word

We should not be pushing the young to rush into declaring their interests prematurely. I will be rather upset if I change this policy and see the sprouting of a new tuition industry coaching students how to ace interviews. If a young person has yet to discover his area of interest, the system should give him more time for self-discovery. And if he for some reason cannot get into the course of study he wants, then I hope he can give what he has a chance. We should make the best of the hand we are dealt with in life.

Any Questions?

www.ite.edu.sg

Possible Scenario #1:

Are O-Level students able to hold on to concurrent ITE EAE and Poly EAE offers?

- Yes, O-Level students can hold on to concurrent ITE EAE and Poly EAE offers.
- Those who have met the MERs for both offers will be required to decide between them. The Poly EAE offer will be automatically confirmed and ITE EAE offer released if the student does not decide by a stipulated deadline.
- The O-Level student is also not allowed to participate in JAE.

Possible Scenario #2:

A Sec 4N(A) student has accepted his ITE EAE offer but has qualified for the DPP or PFP. Can he still apply for DPP/PFP? What about his ITE EAE offer?

- Yes, students who have accepted their ITE EAE offer and who are eligible may apply for the DPP or PFP.
- Those who receive a DPP offer will be required to decide between the DPP or ITE EAE offer. The DPP offer will be automatically confirmed and ITE EAE offer released if the student does not decide by a stipulated deadline.
- As applications to the PFP open in January, students with confirmed ITE EAE or DPP offers may progress to ITE first before applying for PFP when applications open. They may then subsequently withdraw from ITE if they receive a PFP offer.

Misconception #1:

ITE has a target of 15% to meet for ITE EAE and I would be disadvantaged if I do not apply early.

- 15% is an allowance that ITE may utilise
- Extent of utilisation would vary year-on-year depending on number and calibre of applicants

Misconception #2:

The ITE EAE allowance has been lifted completely. This means that I don't stand a chance if I apply during JIE or JAE.

- Previously, ITE courses were allowed to take in up to 30-50% of their course-level intake via EAE. The lifting of this cap will give ITE the flexibility to select and admit a higher proportion of students under EAE, in courses where academic grades may not be the strongest predictor of suitability.
- However, the total proportion of students that ITE can take in across all courses under EAE will remain at 15%. This means that there will still be a good spread of places available in ITE for students who may apply through other admission routes such as JIE and JAE.

Misconception #3:

I will lose out if I don't apply for a ITE course via ITE EAE.

- If you are not certain about your interests and aptitudes at this point in time, there are still other avenues to enter ITE, e.g. using your N- or O-Level results to apply during JIE or JAE
- However, if you have interests and/or aptitudes in certain ITE courses, you are encouraged to consider applying via ITE EAE

Misconception #4:

I can only apply for selected courses through ITE EAE.

- All full-time ITE Nitec and Higher Nitec courses are open for application through ITE EAE.

Misconception #5:

I don't have to study once I receive an ITE EAE offer.

- Students with conditional ITE EAE offers need to meet the subject-specific MERs for ITE courses in order for their offers to be confirmed.
- Requisite academic foundation in order to cope with the rigour of the ITE course

Misconception #6:

I can't change my mind after accepting my ITE EAE offer.

- If you accept an offer during the Acceptance Stage (27 Aug – 30 Aug), you can still withdraw from your acceptance during the Withdrawal Stage (3 Sep – 7 Sep) and participate in JIE or JAE when results are released
- If you do not withdraw by 7 Sep 2018, the offers will be automatically confirmed when results are released and you meet the subject-specific MERs. You will not be eligible for other ITE admissions exercises or be able switch courses.

Misconception #7:

I can choose to withdraw from the ITE EAE offer after the N- or O-Level results are released.

- No. Should students meet the MERs when the GCE N- or O-Level results are released, their ITE EAE conditional offers will be automatically confirmed and students will not be able to switch courses within ITE or participate in other ITE grades-based admissions exercises, e.g. JIE or JAE.
- Sec 4N(A) students who are DPP/PFP-eligible will, however, be allowed to apply for DPP/PFP, so as to allow them to pursue a higher level of study.
- O-Level students will be barred from JAE if they have a confirmed ITE EAE offer. However, should they qualify for studies at the polytechnics or JC/MI, they may appeal to the institutions directly.
